It's Scholarship Time Again!

Board Members Message by Chip Larouche, Governor, PNWDC

For those of you who get the Pacific Citizen, the official newspaper of JACL, the recent special youth issue included announcements of the National JACL Scholarship winners. Included in that special group were two Portland JACL youth. Jonathan Lee was awarded the Kyutaro & Yasuo Abiko Memorial Scholarship and Mariko Newton was awarded the Nobuko R. Kodama Fong Memorial Scholarship. Mariko is attending Pacific University and Jonathan is at the Stevens Institute of Technology. Both of these exceptional students are alumnus of Unite People (UP), the Portland JACL youth group, and we're very proud of both of them and we congratulate them both on receiving these awards.

Now is the time to look forward to the local Community Scholarships that will be awarded at the 2012 Japanese American Graduation Banquet on May 6, 2012. In order to be eligible to apply for the scholarships, the graduating seniors must be members of at least one of the eleven sponsoring organizations no later than October 15, 2012:

- Buddhist Daihonzan Henjyoji Temple
- Epworth United Methodist Church
- Gresham-Troutdale Japanese American Citizens League (JACL)
- Japanese Ancestral Society (Nikkei Jinkai)
- Japanese Women's Society (Nikkei Fujinkai)
- Nichiren Buddhist Temple

The easiest way to join Portland JACL is to go to our website at www.pdxjacl.org and click on the JOIN NOW button at the bottom of the page and use your credit card!

While you're there, you can also download the application for the scholarship at <http://www.pdxjacl.org/scholarships/community-scholarships> and you can also download the application for the Buddhist Daihonzan Henjyoji Temple Japanese Art Award which honors a student that is pursuing a traditional Japanese Cultural Art.

National JACL hasn't announced its 2012 program yet, but you can visit their scholarship page on their website at <http://www.jacl.org/edu/scholar.htm> and be ready when they announce the new program. This page describes all of the scholarships that are awarded by National JACL. REMEMBER: To be eligible for National JACL scholarships, the student MUST be a JACL member. JOIN NOW at www.pdxjacl.org. Student membership is only $30 per year and participating in youth group activities with UP improves your chances of winning the larger scholarships! Contact Connie Masuoka for details on youth group activities!

Congressional Gold Medal Ceremony Date Confirmed!

Setsy S. Larouche, Commander, Oregon Nisei Veterans

The National Veterans Network is pleased to announce that the House Speaker John Boehner, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid, House Democratic Leader Nancy Pelosi, Senate Republican Leader Mitch McConnell and members of Congress will hold a Congressional Gold Medal ceremony on Wednesday, November 2, 2011 in the Capitol to honor Japanese American soldiers of the 100th Infantry Battalion and the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, as well as veterans of the Military Intelligence Service. All three units are being recognized for their dedicated service during World War II.

The three-day itinerary includes:

Monday, October 31st

- Check-in Washington Hilton Hotel
- Hospitality Room at the Washington Hilton will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Tuesday, November 1st

- A National WWII Memorial event will take place at 10am and 1,250 Honorees will be invited.
- All other family members are invited to watch a live broadcast at the Washington Hilton Hotel.

Wednesday, November 2nd

- The Congressional Gold Medal Ceremony will take place at 11 a.m. in the Emancipation Hall at the US Capitol Visitor Center.
- The Congressional Gold Medal Gala Dinner will be held at the Washington Hilton.

Thursday, November 3rd

- A private ceremony for KIA families will take place at the National Japanese American Memorial to Patriotism.
- This will be an invitation-only event due to the limited capacity of 300 people.
- Docents will be available from 1 to 4 p.m. on Nov. 1st and Nov. 2nd for those who would like to visit this memorial on their own.

Please check the website www.nationalveteransnetwork.com for more detailed information.

A separate registration website is now open to the confirmed honorees. Please log onto <https://www.team-psa.com/nationalveteransnetwork/home.asp> to register for NVN-coordinated CGM events.

Our Great Resource - The Coming Generations

By Sharon Takahashi

Every so often I watch someone young and I feel a bit of envy coming on. Humorist Harold Coffin said, "Envy is the art of counting the other fellow's blessings instead of your own." It has been a summer of envy for me because of some young people I have met—and yet, I can tell you that we are all blessed because of them.

We have many volunteers who cross our threshold at Ikoji no Kai and they are all precious, but this summer we had a cadre of young volunteers who were spectacular and I want to acknowledge them. Katie Yotsuuye was the youngest who came one day a week to serve tea and help out in the dining room. She attends Richmond School and is not yet a teenager. Her dad was the gem who provided her transportation, making this service possible. Corey and Cameron Suyematsu came in to spell the dishwashing crew. Parents Mary Ann and Curtis are Epworth volunteers who set the example and the boys fell into the work like naturals. Corey is a going to be a senior at Camas High School and Cameron is a sophomore at University of Portland.

In the kitchen we had Carly Ogata, serving as sous chef to her mom Sharon, our Monday and Friday (filling in for Skip Yamamoto on leave) chef. Carly's role model must have been Grandma Toy Hirata, a long time kitchen team member. We will miss Carly's assistance as she returns to Seattle University to resume her studies.

Cally Kamiya rounded out our student volunteer crew. Monday, Tuesday and Friday were her days. She worked in the dining room and got to know so many of our clients very well. One day as I was chatting with Cally, she mentioned that she received a scholarship at our graduation banquet (it was the last of the night, she said, and I realized it was a Veleda scholarship) from an older gentleman. Since her dad has passed away just a few months before, she said she didn't recall much about the award. It was a great opportunity for me to tell her about Patsy Abe, our outstanding community volunteer in whose memory husband Al gave that scholarship that year. Coincidentally, Al and Cally live a short distance from each other; Cally spent the other two days volunteering at the Tigard Loaves and Fishes Center. She is a senior at the University of Oregon this year but will return to visit us as studies and time permit.

I envy the connections the students made because they can continue their voluntarism for as long as they wish. Some of us don't have that option but we certainly can count these young students as our blessings. We wish them all a great academic year!

We should look for more jewels in the community as we prepare for the annual Japanese American community graduation banquet. REMEMBER... some of the scholarships awarded have an October membership qualifier.

We send wishes for strength and recovery to Skip Yamamoto, Sumi Murakami, Nobu Azumano, Marian Hara and Barbara Uyesugi. Your Ikoi no Kai friends are missing you.

Upcoming Oregon Nikkei Endowment (O.N.E.) Events

Exhibit Through December 31, 2011: kip fulbeck: part asian, 100% hapa

October 1–8, 2011: Oregon Days of Culture In conjunction with this event, O.N.L.C. is hosting a Free Admission Day during exhibit hours on Saturday, October 8.

October 8, 2011: Oregon Nikkei Archives Open House This event is an opportunity for you to see our Collections volunteers in action, what types of objects O.N.E. cares for and the work the Collections Committee does as well as give you an opportunity to bring objects for consideration. 11:00 a.m. –12:30 p.m. at the O.N.L.C. We'll show you how your objects, photographs, and papers can help tell the Oregon Nikkei story.

October 9, 2011: Making Home from War A collection of Nisei writings on resettlement will be highlighted at this upcoming book signing and reading. Making Home from War features an entry by Portlander Sato Hashizume chronicling her impressions on the changes in her neighborhood as she visits the apartment her father formerly ran and the local pharmacy soda fountain. 2 p.m. reading at the O.N.L.C.

October 20: Hapa Diversity Workshop Final exhibit program facilitated by Dr. Linda Isako Angst, Cultural Anthropologist. Taking its cue from the perspective of cultural anthropology, this workshop will ask participants to think—and then unthink—assumptions we hold about ourselves and thereby examine the stereotypes we create about cultural others. 5 p.m., O.N.L.C. Free, but pre-registration is required.

December 4, 2011: Lunch and Dance for O.N.E. Lunch at the Multnomah Athletic Club with O.N.E. and the Minidoka Swing Band. Enjoy lunch with friends and dance to the tunes of the Minidoka Swing Band. Ticket information at oregonnikkei.org or call (503) 224-1458.

December 10, 2011: An Osechi Ryori Primer Celebrate the Japanese New Year with foods steeped in tradition and lore. In this combined demonstration and hands-on cooking class you'll learn how to make Makizushi, Inarizushi and Nishime from timehonored recipes that represent good luck, good health and prosperity. This is a great way to hone your skills in time to help with our annual Osechi Ryori fundraiser. 10:00 a.m. –1:00 p.m. at the Art Institute of Portland, 34 NW 8th Avenue. O.N.E. members: $55 Non-members: register before 11/18/11: $55, after 11/18/11: $65 To register, call (503) 224-1458.

December 30–31, 2011: Osechi Ryori, New Year's Jubako Box Fundraiser. If you would like to place an order or volunteer to help, call (503) 224-1458.
