MOCHITSUKI YEAR OF THE BOAR – A NEW VENUE AND RECORD TURNOUT!

Board Member Message by Chris Lee

If you missed Mochitsuki this year we made some big changes for our 23rd annual New Year’s event. The major difference is that we moved to a new location on PSU's campus. If you had been to a previous Mochitsuki then you know we were starting to outgrow our home at Smith hall due to the continued growth in attendance. However, it is extremely challenging to find a large enough space that has all the amenities and features needed to pull off a big event like Mochitsuki.

As luck would have it, PSU would be opening the Viking Pavilion at the Peter W. Stott Center in 2018. Where Smith was part classrooms, cafeteria, and communal gathering space, the Viking Pavilion is largely and most easily described as a sports arena.

Our committee knew that it would be like fitting a square peg into a round hole, but we were up for the challenge because it meant a bigger space that could fit more people, more community partners and more vendors that we previously had to squeeze in or turn down.

Our planning committee is about 16 people and all volunteer based, so it meant we had to spend extra time planning, preparing and coordinating for the event. A new venue meant changes to the stage shows, event layout, setup time and logistics, electrical diagrams and event operations, parking, and ticket sales as well as we created a new website and required even more volunteers just to highlight some of the main examples for you. Planning an event takes a tremendous amount of effort and I want to recognize how much more was required from our committee of 16, the 20 performers or demonstrations, the 34 businesses and community groups that were vendors or provided activities and the 100 plus people that volunteered to help at the event. If you’re reading this, thank you!

For the most part I would say that our effort was well rewarded. The biggest takeaway is that we increased ticket sales by 55%! What was previously a 2000-person event is now approaching 3000. On the stage we had multiple taiko groups (Portland Taiko, Takohachi and Unit Souzou), Oregon Koto Kai, Sahomi Tachibana dance, Utsukikai mochi pounding and musical performances from violinist, Joe Kye, and rock group, A-key Kyo. We had eight food vendors offering a diverse spread ranging from broiled onigiri, multiple types of bento, noodles, curry rice and even baked goods like melon pan, and Japanese desserts. There were hands on activities such as ikebana, bento making, food demonstrations and mochi pounding that were at full capacity for the entire event and vendors selling cards, bags, and art.

I attended the first Mochitsuki in the basement at OBT and never imagined that it would grow to this magnitude. By my count this is at least the 7th venue that Mochitsuki has used in our 23 years of holding the event. What was once a small gathering has now grown to a large festival. I think it is a true testament to our community that we have been able to grow the event to where it is today.

Admittedly not everything was perfect this year. There were still crowds in some areas, sound was an issue since the space was almost entirely open and there were some technical difficulties on the stage. I’m sure there were other growing pains that I missed that we will need to sort out, but overall the large venue feels like a step in the right direction especially with the increased turnout. It is too soon to tell what next year holds for Mochitsuki, but hope you’ll continue to be a part of it. We will keep you updated and hope you have a great Year of the Boar.

NEWSLETTER (non-Board)

Routines can make you feel like a hamster in its cage, just stepping on the rungs to get the wheel to turn. Then, something untoward happens and the routine is interrupted. In February’s case, it was a non-event snowstorm that caused us to postpone our Japanese Ancestral Society’s General Meeting. As a result, I have one more “shout out” from the soapbox.

Two community events happen in the next quarter that are considered quite routine, and yet are points of pride for our community. They are the Japanese American Community Graduation Banquet and the Memorial Day Services at our Japanese Cemetery, located at Rose City Cemetery. Many of you know more about these events than I do, but there may be a new reader or two in the membership, I hope.

This year’s graduation banquet is scheduled for Sunday, May 5, 2019 at the Monarch Hotel in Clackamas, Oregon. The banquet is made possible by nine sponsoring organizations. They strive to honor all graduates who are of Japanese ancestry and/or are members of the sponsoring groups. It may surprise some to know that this event is 72 years old. Sponsors are: Buddhist Henjojoji Temple, Epworth United Methodist Church, Gresham-Troutdale JACL, Nikkei Fujinkai, Japanese Ancestral Society, Nichiren Buddhist Temple, Oregon Nisei Veterans, Inc., Portland JACL, Shokookai of Portland, and the Veleda Club. These organizations share the belief that high school graduation is an important achievement. Committee members try to find all qualified students to assure each receives an invitation to attend as our guest. Scholarships and athletic achievement awards are also given out. If you would like to know more about the event or would like to attend (tickets are $35 for the luncheon which starts at 1:00 p.m.) please email me stakahashi509@gmail.com or call me 503.330.1935.

The Japanese Community Memorial Day Service is held each year on Memorial Day, the last Monday in May. Since 1950, the Japanese Ancestral Society has organized this event. In 1951, the Oregon Nisei Veterans, Inc., started providing the master of ceremony for the program. The community churches have rotated the lead responsibilities and shared the physical organization of the site. The churches are Buddhist Henjojoji Temple, Konko Church of Portland, Nichiren Shu Minori Kai, Oregon Buddhist Temple and Portland Nichiren Buddhist Temple. This year’s church in charge is Oregon Buddhist Temple.

Everyone is invited to participate. After the services at the Japanese Cemetery, all are invited to the Japanese section of Lone Fir Cemetery located at SE 26th and Stark St. Many Issei (first generation immigrants from Japan) who perished in the 1890s through early 1900s rest here.

Please put these events on your May calendar and attend, if you can. I guarantee that you will be proud to be part of this strong community!
PORTLAND JACL CALLS FOR CITY OF PORTLAND TO LEAVE JOINT TERRORISM TASK FORCE by Marleen Wallingford

Portland JACL has been working with a coalition of community partners to get Portland Police Bureau out of the Joint Terrorism Task Force (JTTF).

The City's partnership with the FBI was created in 1980. Its formal purpose was to prevent terrorist activity, but it has a troubling history of surveillance of lawful first amendment activity and other civil rights abuses.

In 2000, we began organizing to get out of the JTTF. We were successful in 2005, but after the manufactured Christmas tree bombing of Pioneer Courthouse Square in 2010, the City rejoined the Task Force. Despite our efforts, we did not have the support of the Portland City Council. The election of Jo Ann Hardesty has changed the political make-up of the City Council and one of her campaign promises was to get Portland out of the JTTF. We are proud members of a coalition that now numbers over 50 organizations, which organized to get out. On February 13, Portland City Council voted to end the City's participation in the JTTF.

Jim Kennedy, former Portland JACL president, testified on February 13 in favor of ending Portland’s relationship with the JTTF.

JIM KENNEDY’S TESTIMONY TO CITY COUNCIL ON FEBRUARY 13, 2019

Thank you for the opportunity to speak to the council today with our concerns about JTTF participation. There's been a lot of information shared recently explaining all of the safeguards put into place by the JTTF participants and overseers to ensure local officers are not violating state law and that Oregonians’ civil rights are not impacted. The efforts are commendable and we believe the people in place are righteous, but ultimately the oversight process amounts to self-regulation that occurs in secret.

At Portland JACL we understand that civil rights become secondary when people are afraid. Most of us feel comfortable that their civil rights are safe but everyone fears physical harm. Policies that make us safer are always better until it’s your civil rights that have been abused. The incarceration of Japanese Americans during WWII was considered prudent policy that kept us safer. And yes, that was a long time ago; time, however, revealed it to be bad policy, regrettable to American ideals. Just recently Chief Justice Roberts wrote that Korematsu v U.S., which essentially says that safety takes precedence over civil rights during times of military necessity, was “gravelly wrong the day it was decided” and “has been overruled in the court of history”.

You are not considering whether JTTF works today given the quality of people in place to self-regulate things. You are considering if this relationship will hold up against security directives from future Presidents or Attorney General whose priorities can change with times and events. If the JTTF cannot transform and find a way to work with local authorities in a transparent fashion then we should stop cooperating. Any participation agreement that protects Oregonians’ civil liberties must require local leadership has visibility into investigations and the right to refuse participation in individual cases if Oregon law is compromised.
